Lawrence Hutchison, M.D.

Lawrence Hutchison, M.D., is a board-certified family physician who received his medical degree from the University of Missouri–Columbia and Mayo Graduate School of Medicine. His experience spans a broad spectrum of care, including holistic healthcare, health optimization, nutrition, age management, sports medicine, and pediatric, adolescent, and family care.

I believe in partnering with patients through a holistic approach to healthcare, integrating complementary medical practices to treat the whole person. This includes exploring health, nutrition, stress, environment, and genetics, with a focus on optimizing wellness, preventing or delaying disease and age-related changes, and recognizing that lifestyle, nutrition, emotional health, and spirituality all play a role in how we feel and function.

Outside of medicine, I enjoy spending time with my family and being active in my church. In my free time, I can often be found outside cycling, running, skiing, hunting, hiking, or golfing. I also have a passion for fine wine, good coffee, and great food.
